Exceedingly Ancient History

The recent great activity in prospecting in the region, round about Hudson Bay, particularly in northern Manitoba, has caused widespread interest in regard to all that section of Canada. There is no part of the world that has a more interesting geological history. It is usual to speak of Canada as a new country. In some senses this is true, of course. It is only thirty three years since the settlement of Europeans on this continent began.

Three centuries make up only a small span of time in comparison with the length of time covered by human records, and immeasurably smaller span in comparison with the geological ages.

Geologically, the mineralized northern portion of this country is perhaps the oldest country in the world. Geology tells us that the first portion of the solid surface of our planet which emerged from the liquid molten mass was what is now the great rock bed that extends from Laborador across to the unknown wilderness of the barren lands of the basin of the Co. pyrene River which empties into the Arctic Ocean. That great rock bed surrounds Hudson Bay. The prospect in that region around Hudson Bay is among the oldest formations on the surface of this planet, which date from the very dawn of time. The rocks up there date themselves from under the surface long before the Ice Age, when the whole of the northern part of this continent lay buried under an immense thickness of ice, which finally slid southward, carrying with it enormous masses of loose stones and boulders, which it scattered broadcast over the face of the land. Strange it is to think that long ago before the Ice Age, but long ages ago the emergence of that great bed of the most ancient rock in the world, there was luxuriant vegetation and teeming animal life on what are now frozen islands in the Arctic Ocean.

On Bathurst Island, which is six hundred miles north of the Arctic Circle, there have been found petrified tropical plants and the bones of huge lizards of a kind which the scientists feel it could only have lived in a climate like that of the tropical jungles of South America and Africa at the present time.

Freedom and Progress

It is interesting to consider how historians in future centuries will look back to the world war, in the second decade of this century. The survival of absolutism in Europe, which produced the world war, had become an anachronism, which could not continue without hindering the progress of humanity. The gradual transition by which the powers of government were assumed by the people of England, while the King remained to hold the office of hereditary president, was unique in history. It made England only "the shining example of free institutions." Also it made the powerful dynasties of Spain and France, with their autocratic system of government, regard England as their natural enemy and work for England's downfall. The great struggle, which occupied more than two centuries, was believed to have been fought to its close when the Emperor Napoleon was disposed of by the battle of Waterloo. But in central Europe the

The Predicament of Our Era

Minneapolis Journal. Submarine warfare between April and August, 1916, testifies Admiral Sigsbee, came near starving the Allies and winning the war for Germany. Mr. Hoover confirms the statement. It is a fair inference that the desperate attacks by General Sigsbee and Sir Douglas Haig in that period were dictated by the extremity to which the Allies were reduced by the submarines.

After their failure before Verdun and their sacrifices on the Somme, the Germans themselves were desperate. The blockade was strangling them. In the winter of 1917 they saw that to win they must use the submarine to traffic that America from ending assistance. Under the circumstances, to risk war with the United States looked like a negligible factor, whereas to forego the advantage of the submarine was to lose the certainty.

The Germans preferred the chance of victory to the certainty of defeat. In a military sense, who can deny that their judgment was sound?

This submarine offensive was barely overcome; the losses were enormous and the cost of victory tremendous. At that time Admiral Sigsbee's success against the submarines in part to good luck;

He says that the Germans neglected to do all they might have done. But the mainly by which civilization was saved that the launch of a submarine.

Submarine warfare was a new experiment and some points were overlooked.

In the next war they will not be overlooked. Neither will other innovations, such as poisonous vapors and bombs from the air. The predictions with all have been perfected and the art of their employment must better executed.

How fearful will be the weapons in the war to come! Sir Oliver Lodge has expressed the hope that the discovery of a new course by science may be deferred until humanity has attained a better morality.

Civilization may be compared to a man carrying a stick of dynamite. Through carelessness or by design the man may drop the stick and blow himself to shreds, or by caution and good sense purpose he may use the stick to break up rocks that he may construct a road to further progress.

Civilization must devise means adequate to insure itself against self-destruction, or it courts some such catastrophe as the downfall of the Roman Empire, resulting in a thousand years of penury, ignorance, suffering, conflict, and terror.

The alternative was clearly presented.

Those who deny the fatality probably prefer soothing illusions and the comfort of inertia to the sharp prodding of reality.

The Bismarckian system cost too much, its upkeep constituted too great a tax upon production, and its finish has bankrupted Europe and strained the world's credit. To revert to such a system seems folly. Yet some such system we must revert, unless a better can be invented. A better can be invented, for with-manner as unending as the wind of a gale and a disposition as sweet as the odor of flowers and spirit as joyous as the caroling of the birds and mind as brilliant as those glittering treasures that adorn the brow of winter and with heart as pure as dewdrops trembling in a corner of violets, we will make the home of her husband a paradise of enchantment like the lovely home of her childhood, where the heaven bound harp of marriage, waives chords

Trotsky Would Put Labor Under Military Discipline

Moscow.—Millarization is the only means to fully utilize Russia's man power, said Leon Trotsky, Bolshevik minister of war, addressing the ninth convention of the Communist party here. His address was directed to defining the relation between the mobilization of industry and the industrial rehabilitation of Russia.

"Mobilization is more necessary now than it was formerly," he declared. "We have to deal with the present population and masses of unskilled labor which cannot be utilized to the fullest extent by any other means than military discipline. Trades unions are capable of organizing great masses of qualified workers, but 30 per cent. of the people cannot be reached by this means."

Trotsky declared the working army which is built on the principle of compulsory work, is no less productive than was the old system of competition, and came out in favor of personal, rather than collective administration. He asserted political administration of railroads, was unsatisfactory and temporary, adding, however, it was necessary because railroad workers are more conservative in tendency than men engaged in other branches of labor.

Appeal for Funds To Help League

God Help Our Children If League Is Allowed to Withier and Die

London.—Earl Grey, Premier Lloyd George, Admiral Beatty, former premier Asquith, Lord Robert Cecil, and John R. Clynes published an appeal in the London Times for 1,000,000 pounds sterling, "to keep fresh in the minds of the people of this country the spirit and ideals which underlie the covenant of the League of Nations."

The appeal points out what the League of Nations union has already done in its education campaign. It says that a million pounds sterling sounds like a large sum but that if the British people do not support the League of Nations with all their might and resources, "the league itself will assuredly wither and die and if the league should die, God help our children, for as human agency can act, then from calamities to which those of our late war will appear as the merest trifle."

Australia Deals Action

London.—The Daily Mail's Sydney correspondent says that the Commonwealth government is not taking action regarding a larger navy until after the Imperial conference. It adds that Canada's decision to not enlarge her navy has caused local anxiety regarding the care of the Pacific.

Canadian Cars In U. S.

Ottawa.—In the house of commons the minister of railways informed Joseph Archambault that of 59,716 Canadian cars in the United States, 10,840 belonged to the Canadian National Railway; 15,482 to the C.P.R.; 21,028 to the Grand Trunk Railway and 12,366 to other Canadian railways.

West Demands Control of Our Natural Resources

Ottawa.—Development of Canada's natural resources and establishment of a more uniform system of experimental farms came up for discussion in the house of commons. The first question, that of natural resources, was raised on a motion by Captain Manion, Fort William and Rainy River; the second by Donald Sutherland, of South Oxford. Western members seized the opportunity again to urge transfer of western resources to the provincial governments. Dr. Cowan, Regina, argued that had the western natural resources been in the hands of the provincial governments, action to develop them would have been taken long ago. The present situation was "impossible."

"I myself heard Sir Robert Borden declare in 1911 that he would do all in his power to see that the resources were turned over to the provinces," Dr. Cowan declared further. He spoke of millions of feet of lumber

All-Canadian Film Service

Legislation to Amend Moving Picture Act in British Columbia

Victoria.—Legislation to amend the British Columbia Moving Picture Act designed to authorize the creation of machinery for the taking of pictures in British Columbia of an educational nature and for their exhibition in the "movies" and amusement houses of Canada, was introduced here by Hon. J. W. Deb Fries, attorney-general.

The amendment is interpreted to contemplate the inauguration of an all-Canadian film service in the matter of purely educational and domestic subjects peculiar to the Dominion.

Says Sims Was Indiscreet

Rodman Criticizes Rear Admiral For Publishing Confidential Conversation

Washington.—Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet, told the senate investigating committee today that Rear Admiral Sims' letter to Secretary Daniels criticizing the navy's part in the war was "very indiscreet."

"Admiral Sims' indiscretions," he said, "lay very particularly in his breach of confidence in making public an intimate and confidential conversation, which should have been held secret."

The witness referred to Sims' testimony that Admiral Benson, former chief of naval operations, told him prior to his departure for London "not to let the British pull the wool over your eyes; we would as soon fight them as the Germans."

Admiral Rodman said the publication of that statement by Admiral Sims, "no doubt has had its effect upon the cordial relations which heretofore existed between us and one of our closest allies."

Irish Outrages Enumerated

London.—One thousand and eighty-nine outrages were committed in Ireland between January, 1919, and March 29, 1920, according to an official white paper, which attributes them to the Sinn Féin movement.

Thirty-one police, military and officials; and five civilians were killed; 81 were fired upon and 32 were assaulted. This total does not include the police barracks, to the number of more than 200, destroyed during Easter week.

France Consulted With Allies

Paris.—A note by Premier Millerand was read to the ambassadors to-day and then delivered to the German charge, Wilhelm Von Mayer, in the premier declared that France had taken great care to inform and consult with the allies before occupying the Rhine cities.

Farmers Want 'Toronto World'

Toronto, Ont.—Negotiations are under way for the United Farmers of Ontario to purchase the Toronto World, according to information in circles well informed of the farmers' plans.

and millions of tons of the best coal in Canada, lying with eight miles of the government-owned railway. In his motion, Captain Manion urged that the government should, as soon as possible, bring forward a policy having for its object the development of the natural resources of Canada.

He spoke on the need for developing Canada's resources. The government might take over development itself, or assist private enterprise. Capt. Manion did not stipulate that the government should adopt any particular method, but he strongly advised immediate action.

Major Rodman, Calgary, favored scientific research in every possible way and advocated establishment of a government bureau on natural resources similar to that of the United States. There was plenty of coal in Alberta. If railway rates could be modified to compete for eastern trade,

Indians Will Appeal To High Court

To Decide the Matter of the Rights And Status of Indians In Canada

Ottawa.—That the matter of deciding the rights and status of Indians in Canada will likely be taken to the highest court in the British Empire, was the statement made by A. C. Delisle, who described his standing as the mayor of Caughnawaga, and chief of the Caughnawaga Indians. Asked pointblank by the chairman of the commission, deliberating on the proposed amendments to the Indian Act, Delisle said he did not know whether he was a subject of the present King of England, but he did know that he was entitled to protection from the British Crown by reason of treaties entered into between the British Crown and his forefathers as far back as 1744.

The sitting of the committee was taken up almost entirely with the hearing of chiefs from the various tribes. Mr. Delisle, who represents about 2,400 members of the Caughnawaga band, said they wanted to give any Indian the right to be a white man, but they did not want to make it in any way compulsory.

"This Indian act has made Indians of more white men than it has made white men of Indians," he declared with vehemence. He also strongly objected to a man who changed his race being allowed to stay on the reserve. The man should be compelled to go and live with the remaining members of the band.

"It simply means expropriation and the disintegration of the band, and as such is entirely unconstitutional. My opinion is that it should go to England to be decided by the highest courts there."

Andrew Paul, a young Indian representing the Squamish nation of Indians of British Columbia, corroborated the claim of Delisle. His people, he said, had no copies of the proposed bill and did not want any.

"They do not want to understand it, they do not want it anyway, whatever it is," he said, and then left the room.

Other delegates urged that they should not be enfranchised, because they did not pay any taxes.

Abandon Control of Newspaper

Announcement Follows Decision Of Supreme Court In Price Brox Case

Ottawa.—The board of commerce announces that it will not henceforth claim to exercise any control whatsoever over newspaper paper in Canada. The announcement follows the decision of the supreme court in the Price Brothers case, in which newspaper paper was not a necessity of life within the meaning of that expression in the Combines and Fair Prices act and that the powers exercised by the board of commerce as newspaper controller were without jurisdiction.

The board points out that the effect of the supreme court's decision is to render inoperative the orders-in-council constituting the board of commerce as controller of newspaper paper in Canada, and for this reason the board announces its intention of abandoning the control of newspaper, unless the board is subsequently invested, if that be legally possible, with competency-granted power.

The board's announcement adds that the supreme court's decision does not involve the general powers of the board of commerce, except in so far as it, to some extent, limits the interpretation which the board might place on the expression, "necessity of life." The general powers, it is added, will be pronounced upon by a subsequent decision of the court.

This decision will follow a rehearing in the supreme court on May 4, next, of certain points in the recent argument heard in the court to test the powers of the board of commerce as a price-fixing tribunal.

Bolsheviks on Polish Front

Washington.—Bolshevik forces on the Polish front are being regrouped and fresh forces brought up, the Polish war office today advised Major-General Bryke, military attaché of the Polish legation here.

"In the sector of Polesia, the Bolsheviks on the Polish front are being regrouped and fresh forces brought up," the Polish war office today advised Major-General Bryke, military attaché of the Polish legation here.

Buried Shells Kill French Farmers Cambrai.—Two explosions in which 12 persons were killed and two injured have occurred in the district of Villers Goutelin, 18 kilometers from Cambrai. The explosions were caused by agricultural tractors coming in contact with unexploded shells in fields which were being plowed.

Germany Would Send Arms to Irish

Report of Uprising on Easter Is Said To Have Been Confirmed

London.—Recent unconfirmed reports of a Sinn Féin plot for an armed uprising in Ireland were based on fact, according to the Irish police. They state that they are in possession of information not only indicating that a rising was intended, but that certain Germans in Berlin had engaged to furnish war material.

In this connection Thomas J. Loughlin, a Dublin business man and a member of the Sinn Féin, has been arrested under the Defence of the Realm act. No definite charge has as yet been deferred against him, but the Irish police state that his arrest was effected after they had learned that he was a party to a treaty with the Germans for arms and ammunition.

With Loughlin's name, the police link that of Baron Lewis Von Horst, a former Reichswehr officer, and United States, who is now in Berlin, with whom it is alleged Loughlin was negotiating.

Divorce Court for Ontario

Bill Introduced in Senate Court Jurisdiction to Province

Ottawa.—The bill introduced in the senate by Senator Ross, and given the blessing of the government, confers on the supreme court of Ontario, jurisdiction in regard to divorce. There is a similar bill in relation to Prince Edward Island. In consequence, every province will now have divorce laws.

The reform has been long talked of and is brought about by the appalling number who seek divorce by the parliamentary method. There are 28 applications a session. Of this number, 75 are from Toronto alone. The senate is not divesting itself of the right it possesses, but when the enactment becomes law, its divorce activities will become very much reduced. As the main opposition to the reform has come from Quebec, and as that province is left alone, the presumption is that the measure will pass with little difficulty.

Tried to Destroy Mines

Bolshevik Troops Plundered Stores And Fired at Inhabitants

The Hague.—The Nieuwe Courant, describing the plundering of Essen by the Reds before the occupation of the city by government troops, says:

"Part of the retreating Red troops gathered during the morning in Essen, captured all the arms which had been delivered, plundered the shops and finally left the town in automobiles, firing at the inhabitants. The Red army commander ordered the mine guards succeeding in repelling the Reds, although great damage was done to the mines."

Bottom, in the Recklinghausen region, is also in the hands of the government troops.

The occupation of the Mayence district also was a violation of the peace treaty, says The Hague Vademecum, an article declaring that the German action in the Ruhr district likewise was contrary to the treaty of Versailles.

Cleveland.—Newspapers on this continent will be without paper at the end of ten years unless there is conservation of pulp, declared Jason Rogers, publisher of the New York Globe, at a meeting of the Cleveland Advertising Club today.

"The output of print paper is now dwindling rapidly," he said, "and the outlook at the pulp mills of Canada and United States will not be adequate to meet the demand, even if the supply of spruce timber holds out."

French Troops Clash With Mob At Frankfurt

Mayence.—Disturbances broke out in Frankfurt today, but energetic intervention by the French troops restored order. From German sources it is learned that six Germans were killed and 35 wounded.

It is reported that the manifestations which gave rise to these incidents were due to an order originating in Berlin.

The first day of the occupation of Frankfurt passed without incident, the reception was by the populace was most cordial," said General Degoutte, the French commander, on his return from a tour of inspection.

Then suddenly, on orders from London.—It is stated that the British government has sent a protest to the French government with regard to the occupation of the Ruhr region.

After a long conference the French ambassador, Paul Cambon, had with Premier Lloyd George to day and a full discussion of the Franco-German incident by the cabinet council, at which the French minister, an authoritative statement was issued to the effect that France acted entirely on her own initiative in deciding to occupy German towns; that Great Britain, the United States, Italy, and Belgium were all opposed to the plans and that France's action has caused a delicate situation. The matter is under discussion by the British and French governments and the hope is expressed that the situation may be eased.

The statement recites various expedients for dealing with the Ruhr situation, among others, the sending of allied officers with the German troops to supervise the German withdrawal. Another alternative was that the decision should be left with the German government, with the stipulation that unless the status quo was sufficiently restored the allies themselves would occupy German points and enforce their demands.

The statement concludes: "The German government appears to have acted precipitately and France to have responded by adopting a plan which was only intended as a last resort, and even then to have been the affair of the allies and not of any one of them simply."

Great Britain, Italy, Belgium and the United States, it is declared, all felt that the task of restoring order should be with Germany and all were opposed to their regular forces being called upon except as a last resort, to undertake what are virtually police duties. It is pointed out that France feared some ulterior motive on the part of Germany, and that it acted in good faith, but, adds the statement, the immediate result is that the responsibility for her action cannot be shared by the allies as a whole and certainly there is no intention on the part of the British government to allow British soldiers to act as police between hostile German factions and incur all the odium of such a position, to say nothing of its risks."

The statement concludes: "If and when France's suspicions of Germany's ulterior motives and deliberate flaunting of the terms of the peace-treaty become accomplished facts, the allies would doubtless be prepared to act instantly and decisively in concert to vindicate the position and respect for the provisions of the treaty. But for the time being, it may be taken that no British soldier will participate in the occupation of German cities in the neutral zone."

Railroad Strike Spreading

More than 10,000 union railroad men in Chicago and several hundred at Buffalo and Champagne, Illinois, were on strike. Many hundreds of men in Chicago packing houses were thrown out of work by lack of livestock.
